INTRODUCTION TO MODERN ASIAN HISTORY

HIST/CAPS/ASIAN 1910

Fall 2015

Mon and Wed | 10:10-11:00 am + discussion sections

This introductory course follows the history of the Asia-Pacific from the nineteenth century to the present, focusing on the relations of China, India, Japan, South, and Southeast Asia. This course is intended for students wanting a broad historical overview of what makes Asia distinctive and important in the global economy and in world politics. No prior knowledge required.

Professors Victor Seow and Eric Tagliacozzo